Teachers Who Inspire

If someone asked you who your favorite teacher was in school, I'll bet you could recall their name.

This person made an impression on you, inspired you in some way. They did so by taking an interest in your life, going beyond traditional teaching methods, and were engaging with stories, props, or funny songs. This helped you grasp a difficult concept or better understand a topic.

Teachers still do these things today, but with technology and digital tools. Working even harder to engage with kids growing up in a digital world.

Thank you teachers! Keep inspiring!!

Tips For A Super Start To the School Year

1. Having the right school supplies
2. Kids being able to develop their personal style with clothing
3. Getting organized with a planner/calendar
4. Building a rapport with teachers and forming friendships
5. Being respectful, communicative, and empathic toward others

Now more than ever, students use Chromebooks and laptops for school assignments.

Streaming educational videos without buffering, participating in virtual classes seamlessly, and being able to submit assignments with a click of a button are essential to a student's success.

With streaming TV on multiple screens, parents working remotely, and all the smart home devices and appliances, like cameras, some families' bandwidths are getting S-T-R-E-T-C-H-E-D thin!

That's why we're offering again this year...
